

WHAT COLLEGE COACHES ARE WATCHING AT THE SHOWDOWN

CAN YOU PLAY.

Colleges want to see both your touch and finesse on the ball as well as how you handle off the ball movement.

TIP: You never know who is watching so play each moment well (regardless of the score!).

BE A TEAMMATE.

How do you support your team? There is more to soccer than attacking & defending and college coaches are looking to bring in athletes that will fit their team and system of play.

TIP: Can you think of ways to help orchestrate your teammates to play even better?

MINDSET FOR COLLEGE.

Can you handle losing? Rebound from a bad play? NCAA & NAIA players make plenty of mistakes too. The ones that succeed rise from the errors and learn to play even better.

TIP: Use box breathing technique to remove the tension you feel (view at EXACTSPORTS.com).

MOM & DAD MATTER.

Coaches are building a team 'family' at their university. If a coach sees you are capable of getting offensively angry at your own family, how will you treat the coach at college?

TIP: Be appreciative of family members that support your love of soccer. That's more important than wins.

IT'S ABOUT YOUR TEAM

(NOT COLLEGE COACHES).

Coaches want to see you relaxed and NOT awkward about them watching. Play for you & your team -- (mentally) ignore the distraction of colleges.

TIP: Play for the most important person in your life... you.
